

Merchandise for the AC/DC using the National Colours
Green Cap.

Red, white and blue are the national colours of Great Brittain. The symbolism of the ACDP with its British Flag motif is not the right type of symbolism for a political party in South Africa, especially if you look at how many people on our native soil Great Brittain killed in unnecessary wars. These items designed here resemble pride in South Africa and can be bought and worn by all. They will help promote the website on which the policies and plans of the AC/DC are located. The only reason Mr Trump won the American election was because of his stupid red MAGA cap. The problem with MAGA is the A at the end of course. He should just have replaced that with the Statue of Liberty and made his campaign slogan, Make America Greater. He decided to go with negativity rather. When he went up the stairs of his private jet after he relinquished power after his first term to Mr Biden, he was still wearing that stupid red MAGA cap of his, by which he was saying he had not accomplished his election promises during his four years in office. America was still not Great Again and now it was his fault and not that of the Democrats. When was America ever Great? Maybe before the Indians got there.

Beanie

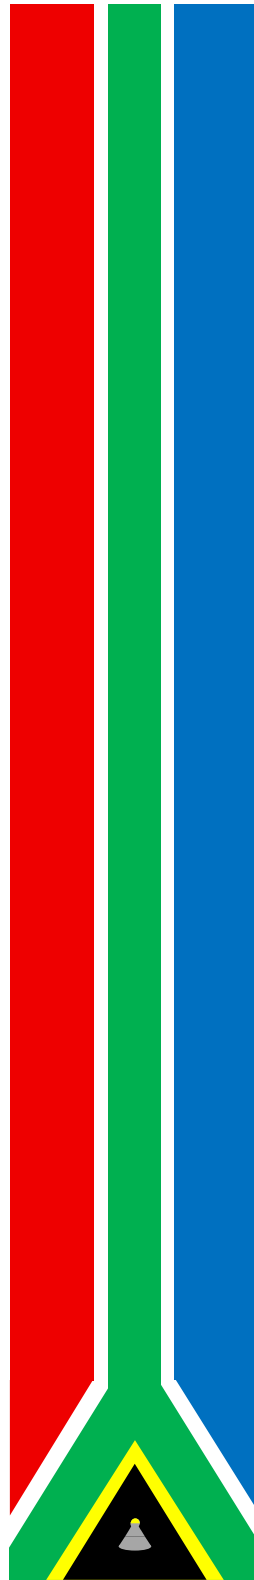

1.The Springbok, our national antelope, is the greatest nationalistic symbol we have in South Africa. It appears on the one Rand coin and our world class national rugby team has made it famous and wears it with pride. But what you can make it say that no one has thought of is even better.

2.The Springbok, our national antelope, stands for the people of South Africa, namely the brown and white back for the Colourds, two black sides for the various Black nations that moved into our land from the North on both sides of the Drakensberg Mountain and the white belly for the Whites who came from the South. Green grass is for wealth & money of the people of the land.

3.One of the big problems in South Africa is that there is very little national pride, because of how the government manages the country. They seem to rule for their own and their friends benefit and not for all South Africans. By starting your party name with South Africa, you will start to turn that around.

4.If people are proud of their government and their nation, they will be loyal. People that are loyal to their nation do not steal from one another and murder one another. Rather they look out for one another. South Africans must be brought together. That will require good leadership skill.

The meaning of the Flag's colours

Black Pyramid – The three Prime Ministers.

Yellow Sun Rays – Department of Intelligence

Green Paths – The Citizens and Money of S.A. uniting

Two White Lines – The Ministers and S.A. Laws

The Blue Sky – The Administrators that have authority over the people working in the State.

The Red Soil – The People working in the State.

The upright green tower of the Flag Scarf represents the phenomenal Economic Growth South Africa will achieve because of the policies and plans of the AC/DC. Unfortunately, our flag is currently lying flat and so is our economy. The Black Pyramid, or Ace of Spades policy, supported by Exodus 18, is how all successful organisations are structured and its members chosen.